You know how careful Uncle Sam is in the selection of men for Army and Navy service. The same care, or even greater care, is employed in choosing foods for Army and Navy purposes.

CALUMET Baking Powder

was picked for Army and Navy bakings, because it measured up fully to the Government's requirements—the highest known mark of Baking Powder merit—because it is a Baking Powder so perfectly made it produces pure, wholesome bakings that aid in keeping Uncle Sam's fighting force in the best of physical condition. This stamp of Government approval leaves no question as to the superior quality of Calumet—and should prompt you to purchase a can today.

One Hundred Unite For Suburban Day

In some cities where Suburban Shopping day has been established, only a few lines of business are represented in the governing organization; but in Fort Wayne the plan has been to unite every line of business until now more than one hundred firms are back of the big weekly invitations issued to the out-of-town people to come to Fort Wayne each Wednesday to trade. The lines included are: Florists, hotels, jewelers, ladies' ready-to-wear, druggists, dry goods, electrical supplies, department stores, automobiles, milliners, newspapers, opticians, leather goods, meats, men's clothing, books and stationery, business colleges, banks, pianos, restaurants, shoes, automobiles accessories, china and glassware, cigar manufacturers, corseting, live-and-ten-cent stores, furniture, groceries, hardware, home builders, theaters, traction lines, twenty-five-cent stores, men's furnishings, cigars, coffee and teas, confectioners, and others. Certainly in this great list the out-of-town shopper who comes to Fort Wayne this week Wednesday will have no trouble in finding just what is wanted and at the right price.

FLAG DEDICATED.

Huntington, Ind., Nov. 12.—The Methodist church dedicated a large service flag at the regular service Sunday evening. When the names of men and boys from the church and Sunday school, now in the service were called, the mothers, or representatives of the families, went forward and put a blue star on the white field of the service flag. About forty stars were put on it. The letter of Mark Hamer to his mother, which was given wide publicity with editorial comment, under the caption "Mark Hamer—the Torch Bearer"—was read at the service. Hamer's parents received word Friday that Mark Hamer had been promoted to be first sergeant of Company C, 334th infantry, at Camp Taylor. Corporal F. K. Wishart, who will speak at the Central Christian church next Sunday afternoon, is a veteran of the battles of the Ypres and the Somme, and helped plant the mines that blew up Messines ridge, several months ago. Wishart is sixty years old, and probably was the oldest man in the Canadian volunteer forces.

RUN OVER BY WAGON.

Ten-Year-Old Boy Fatally Hurt at Willshire.

Willshire, O., Nov. 12.—Acker Cowan, aged 10 years, was almost instantly killed here when he was run over by a heavy wagon loaded with hay, crushing his head. The lad had gone with George Buckley, an employee of his father, Harry Cowan, to weigh a load of hay at the public scales near the Parks drug store. The weighing had been done and the horses started off the scales, little Acker running along at the side. No one witnessed the accident but it is believed that the boy stumbled and fell under the wheels. His head was crushed and he died a few minutes later.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 12.—Otto Bryant, charged with bootlegging, was brought here from Marion and placed in jail, his bondsman, A. J. Markins, surrendering him to the authorities. Bryant was to have been tried in circuit court Monday at the time Markins was arraigned on a charge of selling liquor illegally. Markins pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and received a suspended sentence to the Indiana state farm. His action in withdrawing from Bryant's bond followed the court's warning that the life of his parole depended on his behavior and his refusal to protect law violators.

Portland, Ind., Nov. 12.—Harv Nibarger, at least 50 years old, is languishing in jail on the charge of having attacked Elsie, the 14-year-old daughter of Thomas Nelson, who formerly lived in the western part of the city. His arrest was made as the result of detective work done by two young men. The child's father swore out a warrant. Nibarger's bail was fixed at $1,000 and he could not provide it. Nibarger has a wife and six children and the girl is motherless.

HELP THAT Y. M. C. A. FUND ALONG.

A drive is on this week to raise $35,000,000 to be used by the Young Men's Christian Association for work in the war. In bulk that is a good deal of money even in these days when much of the talk is in billions, but it represents only about 30 cents per head of the population of the United States.

This money will be raised, of course. It ought to be. The people of America can make no better investment of $35,000,000 than in the work of the Y. M. C. A. among the soldiers. It will be an investment in clean manhood, contented manhood, the finest manhood on the firing line. No one can feel a stingy instinct, a parsimonious impulse as he contemplates what this work in the war means to the youth of America who have answered the call to the colors. It appeals to the highest feelings of the better nature of us all and to millions it touches upon a tender place for they have sons or brothers or husbands or other kindred in the service.

War is a great demoralizer of manhood if left unmolested to work its hideous way. The firm purpose and the high ambition of the government and people of this country are that the American armies in this conflict shall furnish to the world a salutary example that war's moral hideousness is a thing that can be combated and overcome and that young men can be saved from the degradations into which immemorially war has been wont to plunge so many of the men whose duty it is to wage war. The new national army is expected to be the finest display of physical manhood that has ever taken the field under any flag. The officers and the rank and file have been selected with exacting care. It will be also the finest assemblage of moral manhood that has ever shouldered arms for home and country. That physical fitness may be preserved it is necessary that moral quality shall not be impaired. That those who come back shall not return morally tainted and debilitated to the homes that as clean, upstanding youth they left at the bugle's call, every effort will be exerted. No agency can undertake this immense task so well as the Y. M. C. A. That great organization will establish and maintain in the big camps and at the front those environments and influences that will give the soldiers something solid to which they may hold fast. It will provide clean, healthful recreation. It will promote intellectual improvement and it will contribute much to spiritual strength. It will give the young men of the legions of democracy the nearest thing there can be to home influences on the firing line.

This is a tremendous program—greater than this country or any other has ever undertaken—to carry pleasure and moral environment to the battlefield. It can be realized only by a heavy expenditure and the money for that expenditure can be had only by voluntary contributions. Each must do his part in the giving of this money and it will be no heavy part for any if all will help to bear the burden. The government imposes on the people a heavy load of taxes and it is borne with much of fortitude and good humor. But whether or not with good humor, it is borne, for there is no escaping it. No one should seek to escape this other burden because there is no compulsory way of putting it upon any one. There can be hardly a family in the land that is not now or that will not soon be directly interested in the welfare and the fate of some young man in the army or on the seas. In giving to the Y. M. C. A. fund there is made a contribution that is directly for the good of that youth.

No one who slacks in this duty will be apt to feel very good about it. It must be a hard conscience that will not be somewhat troubled by default of this obligation to the boys in the camps and at the front.

BETTER NEWS FROM RUSSIA.

The news from Russia is of happier tenor than for some days past. It is in effect that Premier Kerensky is marching on the capital with an army of two hundred thousand men who are loyal to the provisional government that the anarchists have proclaimed overthrown and out of office. The bolsheviks uprising in Petrograd is reported to be going to pieces and to have made no great headway in any other center. That itself is a good token for it indicates that the people of Russia are not in large numbers to be swept off their feet by the proclamation of the Lenin pretenders who have promised an abolition of wealth and an extinction of property.

But the better sign of the immediate times in Russia is the energy and determination displayed by Premier Kerensky in moving against the anarchists. It is to be hoped there may follow a speedy suppression of the red-shirts and their pretensions and a rapid re-establishment of authority in the capital. It then is even more devoutly to be hoped that Kerensky and his government will henceforth give the disturbers short shrift. It should be clear by this time to Kerensky and the moderate factions that only a strong hand can hold Russia together and preserve the fruits of the revolution. If there is to be a republic and democratic freedom and progress in that land it can come only through orderly process and acquiescence in authority.

If it turn out to be the fact that the bolshevik revolt has been throttled the next thing will be to get hold of the leaders of it and make an example. Russia's difficulties are too vast, her perils are too great and too imminent and her future too precariously guaranteed to make tolerance of fomented disorder and preaching of anarchy to be thought of. There appears to have been all along a morbid fear of what Nikolai Lenin might be able to do. He has been looked upon with a timidity that encouraged him instead of being hunted out and disposed of in whatever way could best serve the present interest and the future strength and safety of the new democracy.

About the best thing Kerensky and his confederates in the provisional government can do, as it appears from this distant point of view, is to tie up with General Korniloff and go in with that business-like soldier to restore order, enforce respect for authority and make the army fight. Weaklings are not going to save Russia from the ruinous program of the anarchists any more than weaklings are going to prevent the Kaiser from setting Nicholas back on the throne. It is required of Russia that she do what all other revolutionary democracies have done in providing first for government by authority and enforcement of the processes of order. Perhaps the Lenin revolt has made the lesson clear enough to insure a little less dreaming and a little more matter-of-fact governing in Russia.

BEGINNING TO CONTROL.

One of the striking phases of the establishment of food control in this country has been its noiselessness. Mr. Hoover has been about the most inconspicuous man engaged in any important function of the war. He has seldom obtruded his personality upon the public. He has gone about his business with great sanity and poise and has done more in the way of appeal for food production and food conservation than in any other fashion. Under the law his powers are sweeping. He has an almost unlimited authority, yet we cannot recall knowledge of anything like a threat having proceeded from him. Nevertheless, food control has been coming on in a slow, but rational and effective way. Its operation can be seen very distinctly here and there. We believe that if it had not been for the law and the quiet firmness of Hoover in proceeding to its enforcement there would be by now such a condition of profiteering as would stir the people to great wrath. Instead of that there has been no widespread indication of rapacity, though in many lines of foodstuffs the level of prices has been too high. But these injustices have been or are being corrected. The food administration is making sure it is right before it applies its authority, and when authority is applied it gets results. The tasks of the food administration are not easy. There must be care not to inflict injustice on producers and dealers or to discourage production, equally with care that consumers be protected against extortion and robbery. That there has issued from jobbers, wholesalers and even from speculators little complaint is pretty fair proof that Hoover has been managing his job with even justice. Only the beginning of food control has been experienced by this country. Full and effectual control will take time, but in what already has been accomplished may be found a good token that when completely established it is going to work in a quite satisfactory way for everybody except those who want a robber's tribute.

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones; all the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

Y. M. C. A.

Of all the letters that build up words,
There are four that I love the best;
You can give me those, for I need them, friend,
I care not for all the rest.
Those letters have flamed on the battle front,
They have blazoned the bloody sod;
They have pilloved the heads of dying men,
They have led those men home to God!

Those letters four have stood between
Sheer famine and boys we love;
They have zoned the earth with waves of hope,
They have called help down from above;
They have eased the hunger of body and soul
Where death was dour and grim,
They have taught the strength of the Savior's love,
And they've called the world to Him!

Those letters four have done their work
Regardless of creed and of race;
They only asked for a chance to serve—
They were born of the Spirit's grace.
They wanted to help where needed most,
And they set their strength to give—
See, they gave the most they could to each heart,
And they've helped each heart to live!

"I" is the first of those letters dear;
And it stands for "Young," we know;
"M" is the second, and that means "Men,"
The third is "C," and so
That's "Christian," my friend, and last comes "A"
Our "Association" to tell—
The organization thoroughout the earth
That holds young men back from hell!

You can take those letters in camp or in town,
You may ask the boys what they're for,
And they'll tell you straight, and they'll tell you true—
"They are sunshine in peace and in war."
For they stand for the things one gets at home—
For raiment, and rest, and play;
They stand for what's pure and honest and straight—
God bless them—the Y. M. C. A.!

SUPREME COURT SOON TO PASS ON CONSTITUTIONAL STATUS OF CONSCRIPTION

By GILSON GARDNER.

The United States supreme court will make an early decision on the constitutionality of the draft law. The nine so-called "slacker" cases have been consolidated and set for hearing December 10. By Christmas it is possible the court will render its decision.

At the same time it is expected the court will hear arguments on the constitutionality of sending drafted men abroad. This question has not yet been judicially raised, but it is understood cases will be brought to the supreme court at an early date.

The two questions are absolutely separate, said Hannis Taylor, noted as the exponent of the contention that the drafted army cannot be sent outside the United States. "The right of exemption from foreign service is quite distinct from the question of the draft law's constitutionality. I contend, and shall argue to the supreme court, that this law is constitutional."

"Neither have I a particle of doubt on what the court will rule as to the right of the drafted man to exemption from service on foreign soil. I regret the question of constitutionality of the draft law has been raised, because I do not wish to see the other question clouded."

Eight of the cases to be argued December 10 are the result of prosecutions for neglecting to register as required by the draft law. The ninth case, that against Emma Goldman, anarchist, is brought under another section of the draft law which makes it a crime to resist the draft. Emma Goldman is charged with making speeches and circulating literature urging resistance to the draft. The New York court sentenced her to San Quentin penitentiary in California for a long term. An appeal was granted her by Supreme Court Justice Brandeis, who also directed reasonable bail be accepted pending an appeal.

The other cases came up from Ohio, Minnesota, Georgia, and New York. The titles of these cases are Ruthenberg vs. the United States (Ohio); Arver vs. the United States; Grall vs. the United States; Wangerin vs. the United States (Minnesota); Kramer vs. the United States (New York); and Jones vs. Perkins (Georgia).

Those who contend the draft law in itself is unconstitutional rely on the clause in the constitution which forbids involuntary servitude, basing their argument on the contention that enforced military service amounts to involuntary servitude. This is the argument urged by Thomas Watson of Georgia, who inspired the Georgia cases. Federal Judge Spear of Georgia rendered a decision declaring the law unconstitutional and an appeal was taken.

The constitutionality of the law is upheld on the ground that the federal government is given authority specifically by the constitution to draft men for three purposes: namely, to enforce the laws, to suppress insurrection and to repel invasion. This provision of the constitution was invoked in 1863 when congress authorized Lincoln to draft soldiers to suppress insurrection. The court has held the law then passed was constitutional. The present law is almost identical.

Constitutional lawyers generally agree with Hannis Taylor that the draft law as such will be declared constitutional. It is only a matter of getting a court declaration at an early date. On the question involving the constitutionality of sending the troops abroad, there is a much wider division of opinion, many holding with Taylor that service outside the country is opposed to the constitution.

ness, and brutal roughness in combination with an idiotic veneration for women.

"Far worse things than these, however, are the order of the day, namely, revolting cruelty, lynch-law, frequent and unpunished murders, riots of indescribable brutality, together with open contempt of justice and law, the repudiation of public debts, and revolting political corruption, with its concomitant, the disintegration of the morale of the individual."

SABOTAGE IN AMERICA.
(Indianapolis Star.)

The word sabotage has figured for several years in reports of labor troubles in France and varied explanations have been given of its meaning, but its origin and significance are really involved in no mystery.

The word sabot means primarily a wooden shoe such as peasants wear, and one magazine writer some time ago made a labor effort to show a connection between the wearing of these shoes by workmen and destruction of property, or sabotage, by the same class of men. The term really arises from a common and colloquial application of the word sabot to the socket or "shoe" cut in railroad ties in which to lay the rails, and the first form of destructive sabotage undertaken by dissatisfied workmen of the type of our I. W. O. was the damaging of these shoes in order to disable the roads. Later the word was applied to other forms of damage by anarchistic workmen.

It is only lately that the term has come into use in this country, and it has apparently been introduced by German agents and spies engaged in encouraging interference with American industries and traffic connected with the war. Mere destruction of property is, of course, not new in the United States, it having been an accompaniment of a certain class of labor disturbances for years; but the sly, systematic and widely extended operations in the way of bringing about explosions in munition factories and other establishments engaged in work for the allies and in similar destruction since we entered war on our own account is an entirely new proceeding.

Most Americans, no matter what their real sympathies in the war, do not enter into this form of warfare. American workmen are not sneaks or cowards, and it is not easy to imagine any class of men engaging in this despicable work who have not been corrupted by German agents. As the disclosures being made by our state department show, a systematic campaign of sabotage was planned and preparations made to finance it liberally. Isolated instances on record of explosions, fires and other damage indicate that some of the depraved tools of the enemy earned their pay, but it must have become evident to the astute Von Bernstorff early in the proceedings that German-Americans could not be counted on to serve the fatherland in this manner. The campaign of fire and wreck did not flourish, and the men promoting it undoubtedly were disappointed.

The conclusion seems to be that though the word sabotage has entered into our language, it has not, as a practice, become one of our national institutions, nor is it likely to do so.

THE NAVY SEEKS MORE SAILORS.

(Toledo Blade.)

The navy needs a lot more of those husky young Americans whose strong arms, bright eyes, willingness and loyalty, are helping to keep the seas combed of German submarines. The work of the navy has so increased in recent weeks that it is actually embarrassed from the want of sailors.

Men subject to the draft may think that they are now committed to one service. They are mistaken. Unless they have been called and assigned, they may enlist now for sea service. They could not do better than to join that arm. It is attractive. It has few hardships save those of emergency and battle. Food, clothing, shelter, recreation, all are supplied lavishly. The navy has always watched out for its own with a far-sighted thoughtfulness as to the volume of contentment.

FROM THE SENTINEL PAGES 25 YEARS AGO

Rudy Heinrich has taken a position in F. J. Miller's drug store, on South Lafayette street.

It is said fourteen candidates for postmaster of Fort Wayne are already in the field.

Peter Hoffman, on his way home from work the other night, fell over a treble near his home and was badly hurt.

The little daughter of Mrs. Argebright, who resides on East Wayne street, yesterday accidentally severed the little finger of her left hand. Dr. Boswell attended her.

C. C. Crawford, of Maples, Ind., sent Cyrus Fike a genuine democratic rooster. The bird was decorated with Cleveland badges and crowed for Grover the moment the train reached the south depot.

Cleveland's plurality in Allen county for president was 4,524. Cleveland, democrat, received 10,010 votes and Harrison, republican, 5,486. Matthews' plurality for governor was 4,429.

Readers of The Sentinel will remember the circumstances some months ago of the mysterious disappearance of Bert Early from this city. The young man was a resident of Abotie township and lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Captain Glenn, an old and respected family of that locality. The trouble was over a girl with whom Early was in love, and whom, it is said, gifted him for another man. The young man came to this city and wrote to his grandfather in which he declared that by the time the letter was received he would be dead.

When the letter was received the young man's grandparents made every effort to find traces of the missing boy, but all to no avail. It was learned this morning that the young man had written a letter to his grandfather asking him to send some clothing which had been left at home. It is an estimable young fellow, and has probably learned by this time that love seldom, if ever, kills.

Uncle Harry Explains The Austro-German Drive on Italy

"Won't you explain to us how the Germans and Austrians were able to win such a big victory over Italy and capture so many Italian soldiers and Italian cities?" asked Jimmy. "It happened so suddenly and there was so much news about the fighting, and the Italian retreat, that I couldn't get it all straightened out in my mind."

"Be glad to, if you do one thing," said Uncle Harry.

"What's that?" asked Jimmy.

"Get the geography and open it at the map of Europe," said Uncle Harry.

"Suppose I put it here on the table so we can all see it," said Uncle Harry. A moment later, after Jimmy had handed the big book to Uncle Harry, open at the map of Europe, Uncle Harry pointed to the City of Trieste, Austria, on the Adriatic Sea, and said: "The Italian army, under General Cadorna, was aiming for this big seaport city, hoping to capture it first, and then, possibly, drive across Austria toward the Austrian capital of Vienna."

"And the Italians had made good progress, hadn't they?" said Helen.

"They had made wonderful progress," answered Uncle Harry, "because their fighting had been principally up the mountain sides—the Alps. It had taken General Cadorna more than a year to drive the Austrians from many of their mountain strongholds, and he was in a position to threaten Trieste. The Austrian people knew that and the Austrian government was anxious to do something to cheer the spirits of the people, and, of course, the soldiers, who had been suffering defeats for many months. The German government was also anxious to win some sort of a victory that would cheer the German people, and help take the sting out of the losses the German army has been suffering in France and Belgium lately. Also, and this is very important, Germany saw the possibility of completely defeating General Cadorna's army and winning control of Northern Italy. This, you see," and Uncle Harry moved his pencil over to the western end of the northern part of Italy where it touches France, "would shut Italy off, by land, from railroad communication with France and England."

"Then Italy would have to depend on getting her supplies by the sea, and that would give the German and Austrian submarines a better chance to defeat Italy, wouldn't it?" asked Joe, who was studiously examining the map.

"Exactly," said Uncle Harry. "So Germany sent Field Marshal von Mackensen and several hundred thousand experienced soldiers, mostly from the eastern fronts, to the Italian border. The Germans took with them many big guns. Mackensen executed a very smart military move. Some of his soldiers he sent down toward Trieste to join the Austrians; the remainder he massed farther north on the border where there are passes through the mountain range known as the Julian Alps. Then at a signal, he surprised the Italians, engaging them down in the direction of Trieste with part of his troops, while his other forces fought their way through those mountain passes in the north. With the assistance of his powerful artillery, and by moving with remarkable rapidity, von Mackensen got the main portion of his army through the mountains and out to the flat country. Then, with that part of his army that was co-operating with the Austrians, he drove down on the Italians from the east, at the same time his main army was attacking from the north. The Italian army, it has since been learned, did not have enough artillery, and General Cadorna, attacked on two sides had to retreat."

"But a good many of General Cadorna's soldiers were hounded in on all sides before they had a chance to retreat and were captured," said Jimmy.

"Yes, the Austro-Germans took many thousands of prisoners—the dispatches said somewhere around 150,000," answered Uncle Harry, "but you must remember that General Cadorna's army numbered more than 1,000,000 men, so it was really wonderful that he was able to retreat with so many soldiers and lose such a comparatively small number."

"And the German army didn't capture all the northern part of Italy, did it?" asked Helen.

"No, it did not," said Uncle Harry. "And as soon as word of the German victory reached Paris and London, reinforcements of English and French soldiers were on the way to join Cadorna's army, and they took with them big supplies of ammunition and big guns. Our own government immediately started ships for Italy with other needed supplies and plans were made for giving Italy the greatest possible support in every way."

"But it was a big loss to Italy, wasn't it?" asked Helen.

"Yes, it was; because in less than a week Italy lost all the ground she gained in more than a year's fighting, and considerable more besides," said Uncle Harry. "And yet it will not win the war for Germany and Austria. Germany won big battles in Belgium and France in the early days of the war, and later in Rumania, Serbia and Russia, but the war did not stop. Germany has a wonderful fighting machine, but the longer the war lasts, the surer the allies are to win in the end—they have more men to draw on and practically unlimited supplies. The German victory in Italy may help to cheer up the German and Austrian nations for a while longer, but it is only putting off the final result for a later day."

Editor's Note—Uncle Harry will be glad to answer inquiries, either in this column or by mail, provided letters are signed with the full name and address of the persons writing. The correspondents' names will not appear in the article.

Hot Water for Sick Headaches

Tells why everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it before breakfast.

Headache of any kind, is caused by auto-intoxication—which means self-poisoning. Liver and bowel poisons called toxins, sucked into the blood, through the lymph ducts, excite the heart which pumps the blood so fast that it congests in the smaller arteries and veins of the head producing violent, throbbing pain and distress, called headache. You become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish and miserable, your meals sour and almost nauseate you. Then you resort to acetanilide, aspirin or the bromides which temporarily relieve but do not rid the blood of these irritating toxins.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drunk before breakfast for awhile, will not only wash these poisons from your system and cure you of headache but will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary canal.

Ask your pharmacist for a quarter pound of limestone phosphate. It is inexpensive, harmless as sugar, and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

If you aren't feeling your best, if tongue is coated or you wake up with bad taste, foul breath or have colds, indigestion, biliousness, constipation or sour, acid stomach, begin the phosphate hot water cure to rid your system of toxins and poisons.

Results are quick and it is claimed that those who continue to flush out the stomach, liver and bowels every morning never have any headache or know a miserable moment.—Advertisement.

His Moustaches
Threaten ItalyMARSHAL
CONRAD VON HOTZENDORF.

Marshal Conrad von Hotzendorf, long commander-in-chief of the Austrian armies on the Italian front, is probably the master strategist in whose brain the whole campaign against Italy was mapped out. He is almost the only Austrian general who has not lost his reputation during the war. Perhaps that is because his moustaches are little brothers to those of Kaiser Wilhelm.

An Old Man's Stomach.

As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken, the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age of 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain peepsin, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.—Advertisement.

Married Sixty Years. At the home of their daughter, Mrs. F. A. Opatz, 1153 Harman street, Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Perry are celebrating the sixtieth anniversary of their marriage, Monday, Nov. 12. Mr. Perry is eighty-two years of age and Mrs. Perry is seventy-seven, but it would never be suspected to just see them and hear them talk. Indeed so active has Mr. Perry been all summer that he made and cultivated a garden, successfully while Mrs. Perry knits, sews and crochets as if she were twenty years younger as figures go. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Perry, who are natives of Wayne county, Indiana, took place at the home of the bride, who was a daughter of Rev. John C. Vardeman, one of the most prominent ministers of the United Brethren faith of the state and at one time a member of the state legislature. Mr. Perry was a school teacher in his early days and taught in Allen county, being the first teacher of the school of Lafayette township, and afterwards teaching in both Adams and Allen counties. After their marriage Mr. Perry and his bride lived on a farm but later in life Mr. Perry learned the brick and stone mason trade and followed that branch of work for many years. Recently Mr. and Mrs. Perry have divided their time with their sons and daughters of whom there are two each. One son passed away some years ago. The sons and daughters are Ballard Perry, of Indianapolis, Mrs. Millie East, Oran Perry and Mrs. Opatz, all of this city. Eleven grandchildren and eight great grandchildren are numbered in the descendants of this pioneer couple. The grandchildren are Leyton B. Perry, Mrs. D. W. Hedges, Helen, Phyllis and Masters Glen and Paul Perry, all of Indianapolis. Miss Martha Perry, also of Indianapolis, Mrs. Amy Thomas, Oran Ppatz of this city and Bertie and Elsie Askpin, of Anderson. Mr. and Mrs. Perry are members of the U. B. church and have many friends among its congregation, aside from those of neighborhood acquaintance. Mr. and Mrs. Opatz are having a family dinner in honor of Grandpa and Grandma Perry today and the son from Indianapolis, is here to assist in celebrating the day. Mr. Perry enjoys the distinction of being the oldest Mr. Perry in the state so far as he knows.

SIMPLICITY IN DANCE FROCKS. Simplicity is the keynote of the season's dance frock. Modesty may also be mentioned as a strong influence; very few of the newest evening gowns are cut, very low in the neck. Those that are cut low have an overdraping of sheer tulle, and few are entirely sleeveless. The tendency in the development of formal evening gowns is to arrange them so they may be worn for either afternoon or evening. The average dance frock is so simple any home dressmaker can turn it out without the least difficulty.

JUDGMENT WITH CEREAL MAKES PALATABLE DISHES

In spite of the high prices the farmer will get for his crops of wheat and corn, there is no disputing the fact that the cereals are and will always be our cheapest food. And the higher food prices rise the more we will have to depend on corn, oats, rice and wheat to feed us. Hard work, which gives good appetites, is often the flavor that is needed to make foods palatable. There is no reason why the cereals should not be made attractive to everyone. Although they lack definiteness of flavor a small quantity of more highly flavored or seasoned food adds the desired zest. A little savory meat or boiled or smoked fish, a spoonful of grated cheese will flavor a dish of rice or macaroni. A well-seasoned soup encourages the use of quantities of crackers or bread. A lettuce leaf between slices of buttered bread makes the bread more desirable.

FULL COAT OR BELTED—WHICH? BOTH ARE GOOD THIS SEASON

BY BETTY BROWN.

Top coats are most accommodating this winter. Whether one likes the straight line unfitted coat or the trimly belted garment one may be suited, for both are popular.

The garment pictured at the right is a fitted model with the fullness closely shirred about the waist and held snugly in place by a belt wide at the front and back and narrow at the sides. The heavier collar of this deer-brown velour coat is extremely large and covers the shoulders and back, reaching almost to the beltline in the back.

The second coat is one well suited to the younger girl. On this coat the broad belt is used with excellent effect, defining, but not constraining the waist line. The broad bands outlining collar, cuff, and hem are of rich plush and the collar is convertible.

EASY WAY TO STARCH.

When you wish to starch shirtwaists, or small articles, instead of making hot starch put a lump of starch about the size of a walnut in the rinsing water, wring out and fold in a dry towel for a few minutes, when they will iron nicely and look as good as new.

Charles Granlebard, having been given a furlough from Camp Taylor, told of the benefit derived from the Y. M. C. A. there. Come Wednesday to Avoid Saturday Crowd

One of the excellent features of the Fort Wayne Suburban day plan is the arrangement by which people from out of town may do their shopping without encountering the great crowds of Fort Wayne people on the streets and in the stores on Saturday. The fact that the restaurants report as great a business on Wednesday as on Saturday shows that the number of out-of-town people on Suburban day is at least nearly as great as those of Saturday. And yet, with this large out-of-town contingent, the streets are not at all congested on Wednesday. It's because the home folks are not out in as large numbers as they are on Saturday.

This week Wednesday the merchants will have on display a great variety of seasonable goods, much of which will be announced through the columns of the newspapers tomorrow.

Wrinkles---Sallow Complexions

RENEW YOUTHFUL BEAUTY

Try This French Beauty Recipe Tonight.

Many a wrinkled, hollow-cheeked, aged-looking woman has quickly made herself look most beautiful, youthful and charming by means of the following simple French Beauty Recipe. Try this tonight. Merely wash your face in Buttermilk, and rub in a teaspoonful or two of Creme Tokalon Roseated. In the morning wash the face with cold water and rub in more Creme Tokalon Roseated, which you will find entirely different from any other creams. Day by day watch how the old, hardened, coarse, sallow skin becomes new, fresh, soft and youthful-looking. If you have had wrinkles get a box of Japanese Ice Pencils and use them in connection with the cream, and you can get quick action on the deepest wrinkles, no matter of how long standing. Meyer Bros. Drug Co., Wolf & Desauer, or most any good druggist or department store in this city. Success guaranteed or money refunded.

RED PAINT VEIN IS FOUND AT ZANESVILLE

A red substance has been struck off about the consistency of barn paint on the farm of Ed Robinson, of Zanesville, where an oil well is being dug. This vein was reached at the depth of 500 feet and is twelve feet deep and is a mineral and a pigment from which paint is made. This pigment is as valuable as the oil and some means will be taken to save it if possible. A question arose as to whom this would belong, the oil company or the land owner. Mr. Robinson states that it belongs to him inasmuch as his lease reads, "for oil and gas only."

WOODEN SHIPS BEING BUILT IN TEXAS TO DEFY U-BOATS—LUMBER MAY BE "DRAFTED" TO GAIN SPEED

Here are four large wooden vessels in various stages of construction, being built at one of the yards at Orange, Tex., by the United States shipping board to increase our fleet of food and munition carriers. The shipping board believes these boats would have been completed, and others too, if the owners of southwest pine lumber mills had patriotically turned out the timber as fast as it was needed. Now the board threatens to commandeer the sawmills and cut its own timber if the mill owners do not turn out the needed quantity.

MILITARY NEWS

NAVY DEPARTMENT TO CONDUCT CAMPAIGN

Neighboring Towns Will Be Visited in Order to Gain Enlistments.

The navy recruiting department is preparing to conduct an extensive enlistment campaign during the next three weeks. Practically every small town as well as all parts of Fort Wayne will be covered and decorated with attractive enlistment posters. Several Fort Wayne men among them, Charles Reuss, Frank Morris and Hale Rehner, have volunteered to use their machines, but the station desires the services of several more. Citizens would be performing a patriotic service if they would volunteer the use of their cars for this purpose.

Enlistments have been increasing rapidly. Thirteen men have already filed their applications for the various branches of the service this week. The recent order extending the age limit has proven to be very desirable by the number of applicants who have been placed within the limit.

BREAKS A COLD IN A FEW HOURS

First dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" Relieves All Grippe Misery.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! A dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" taken every two hours until three doses are taken will end grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens up clogged-up nostrils and air passages; stops nasty discharge or nose running; relieves sick headache, dizziness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

"Pape's Cold Compound" is the quickest, surest relief known and costs only a few cents at drug stores. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, and causes no inconvenience. Don't accept a substitute.—Advertisement.

SAYS THE BOYS ARE WELL FED

RUDOLPH ROEBEL.

Fort Wayne parents who have been worried over whether their sons in the army are getting enough to eat should read the following letter from Rudolph Roebel, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Roebel, 2314 Euclid avenue, who says he is getting fat. Roebel is a member of Company F, 13th regiment of engineers, now stationed at Camp Shelby, Miss. He writes as follows:

"Had a dandy vacation trip to the gulf Sunday and sure enjoyed myself. They do lots of oyster fishing there and oyster shells are piled up all over everything—even the roads are made of oyster shells and they are fine. I ate the cake you sent me and thought it the best I ever ate. I didn't know what you meant in the other letter; thought you had sent a cake that I didn't get, but you don't want to worry about a little thing like that and, mother, don't fret about me, because I'm getting bigger every day. I weigh 151 pounds now, so you see I have gained about twelve pounds. We are getting lots of drill now, but feel fine over it and like it, but the conveniences are not here, so we kick about that, but manage to get away with half a wash. Don't look just as neat as I would wish to, but it is the best a fellow can do here.

"Mr. Freeze was here Saturday and he found us in a very discouraged mood. We had just got changed around and the old bunch got split up. We are all in the same company yet, but in different tents. We can't have the rough house we used to—sure had lots of fun, but will have more, too.

"Things are going along just about the same. No change as I can see, this except to get some more clothes this week that will be alright. A pair of overalls. I think this engineers' division is one of the best in the bunch and best service in the army. Will get all kinds of construction work, which will be very interesting.

"Now people don't worry about sending me anything, because I can get anything I want here and it won't cost so much postage. Have been feeling fine ever since I left home and the weather is fine down here, regular summer."

CAMP TAYLOR TEAM MAY PLAY HERE SOON
An effort is being made for a team of Fort Wayne boys now at Camp Taylor to meet a local team as a preliminary to the big Friar game to be played at League park on Thanksgiving day. The Fort Wayne boys at Camp Taylor organized a team early in the season and have won several games. They have secured permission to come here, it is understood, if the proper arrangements can be made with the Friars.

GOOD ACCOMMODATIONS.

John Linn Writes Letter to His Parents at Bluffton.

"We have the best accommodations that Uncle Sam could possibly give us," writes John Linn, member of aero squadron 107, Aviation Concentration camp No. 2, Garden City, Long Island, New York, to his parents at Bluffton. "We have fine barracks with steam heat, hot and cold shower baths, electric lights and modern ventilation. We are the most pleased bunch of 'Sammites' you ever saw.

"When we first arrived in camp our hearts sank to the bottom of our shoes for on each side of us were boys in tents wading mud shoetop deep. We afterward learned they were coast artillery boys. All of the signal corps men are in barracks, as far as I can learn."

FACE PAINT TABOOED

Remove Skin Instead

"A few years ago only one class of women painted their faces," says Dolly Madison. "It was a sign of social ostracism and was tabooed in refined circles. The custom has become so universal we must admit it is to be deplored and to be shunned as soon as possible."

"How foolish to seek artificial 'beauty' of this sort, obnoxious from artistic and moral standpoints, when it is so easy to obtain a truly natural complexion by the use of ordinary mercurized wax, which may be had at any drug store in original one-ounce package. This mercurized wax is so effective and so harmless, no one need think of using anything else for the purpose. Applied like cold cream at night, and washed off in the morning, it at once begins to show its remarkable rejuvenating effects. It gently absorbs the lifeless surface skin in tiny particles, gradually showing the fresher, livelier, beautiful under-skin. Naturally it takes with it all surface defects, like freckles, pimples, coarse mouth patches and liver spots.—Advertisement.

DECATUR BOY WRITES.
Cass Bacon Says He Doesn't Expect to Go to France.
Cass Bacon, of Decatur, has written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bacon, that he does not expect to go to France. "We never expect to go to France, but we might go to Fort Sills, Oklahoma," he writes. "That would be a little closer to home than Camp Shelby. I like it more every day, although it is a funny country. We have stoves and electric lights in our tents and that is sure fine."

Kendallville Officer Writes.
Lieutenant Ralph E. Field, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest E. Field, of Kendallville, has been married to Miss Dorothy, daughter of Mrs. Westley Albert, of Chicago, according to word received by the parents.

"JUST A SOLDIER."
He is nothing but a soldier. People think he is free from care. But he has his daily duties. And your burdens help to bear.

He goes out on the field of battle. Out amidst the shot and shell. Does his duties as a soldier. And I'm sure he does them well.

Why kick this humble soldier. Like so many people do? Why not respect him as a soldier. He would do the same for you.

Some are tough, and so hard-hearted. Of their pride they do not care. But not only in the army. You will find them everywhere.

There are men who join the army. For their honor was at stake. And the freedom of this country. We defy a man to take.

We don't need a king or kaiser. To tell us what to do. And for sure the Stars of Glory Sends that message straight to you.

I imagine I'm in battle.

SAYS SOLDIER BOYS ARE BEING WELL FED
Corporal Hugh B. Poffenberger, stationed at Hattiesburg, Miss., writes as follows to his mother at Bluffton: "The boys who write home that they are not getting enough to eat and are not treated right are not telling the truth."

I can hear the cry of pain. And the soldier who are kicking Will not bother you again.

I can see his clothes are battered. And his pulse is beating low. And I note his voice is falling. And his eyes no longer glow.

"Mother, dear, your son is dying. Write this message down for me. And kindly send it to be delivered to my mother, dear to me."

"Mother, dear, your son is dying. Though, dear mother, I've been true. And some day I hope to meet you In the land beyond the blue."

Now, I hope whoever reads this Learns a lesson from the start, And remember that a soldier Has a conscience and a heart.

Wednesday Crowd Had This Salesman Guessing

E. W. Peirce, secretary of the Fort Wayne Y. M. C. A., tells of a salesman who was in the city a couple of weeks ago in the interest of a concern with whom the Y. M. C. A. board had closed a contract for building materials for the new association building. It was on Wednesday, October 31, when Mr. Peirce and the visitor came out upon the street.

"What's going on in town today?" asked the visitor.

"Nothing special, I think," responded Mr. Peirce. "Why do you ask?"

"Oh, because there's such a crowd on the street that I thought there must be some big special event," explained the salesman.

"Well, then I'll tell you," said the secretary. "This is Wednesday, and every Wednesday is Suburban Shopping day in Fort Wayne."

And the next one comes this week Wednesday.

REPORTS FROM RUSSIA REMAIN OF GOOD TENOR

Washington, Nov. 12.—Latest reports today from Ambassador Francis to the state department strengthen the belief that the Kerensky government would regain the ascendancy in Petrograd. The dispatches, however, were sent prior to the news that Kerensky had reached Tsarkoe Selo in his march on Petrograd. Regarding conditions outside of Petrograd, the ambassador was uninformative. In earlier dispatches he has stated his inability to report on the outside situation because of the wires being controlled by the Bolsheviks.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM RED CROSS MEET

Mrs. A. E. Fauve is Home From Interesting Inspection Trip.

The Red Cross delegates from the Red Cross who attended the meeting of the Lake division Saturday at Cleveland, report that it was one of the most interesting and impressive meetings they ever attended. The meeting was devoted solely to the purpose of arousing the American women to more earnest work in the making of surgical dressings and garments. The American Red Cross workers are the only women in the world doing this work and this fact will have a wonderful influence on the troops in France. Where the demand has been for 3,000,000 surgical dressings a month it is now raised to 5,000,000 a month.

Makes Inspection Trip.

Mrs. A. E. Fauve, of the local warehouse, returned Saturday night from her inspection trip over the northern Indiana chapters of the Red Cross. She reports that all the chapters she visited were making a splendid showing and devoting much of their time to the making of surgical garments and dressings. The chapters visited by Mrs. Fauve were: Goshen, Elkhart, Laporte, Michivaka and Michigan City.

To Use Aprons.

The Red Cross ladies announce that they are using the white aprons in the making of the surgical dressings and garments in order to be as clean and sanitary as possible. This is done so that the dressings may be made clean without sterilization. The money received in the mite box for the past few days was used to provide the chapter with twenty-five of these white aprons for those who did not have aprons. Everyone who can should provide their own aprons.

To Visit Grabbill.

Mrs. Allen Hamilton and Mrs. Brooks Sale will go to Grabbill Tuesday to speak at the Red Cross chapter there. Mrs. Hamilton will speak on the hospital garment work and Mrs. Sale on the work in the knitting department.

Guests of Warehouse.

Mrs. C. B. Martin, state Red Cross inspector of Ohio, and Mrs. Harding, chairman of the Toledo chapter, will visit the local warehouse Thursday as the guests of Mrs. A. E. Fauve.

PARK CONTROL LAW DECLARED INVALID

Trial Suit Proves Law Unconstitutional in Superior Court.

Fort Wayne people will be interested to learn that the act passed by the last legislature providing for revision of the park control of the city of Indianapolis and adjacent territory was held invalid by Judge T. J. Moll, of the Marion county superior court. An appeal will be taken to the supreme court. The reason why this action is of such importance to Fort Wayne is that a similar act affecting cities of the size of Fort Wayne, also was passed. If the bill affecting Indianapolis is declared invalid in the supreme court, it means that the bill affecting Fort Wayne will share the same fate.

One of the objections sustained by the court was that it was unconstitutional in that it deprived the city and its taxpayers of property without due process of law. Another objection sustained by the court was that the power of taxing the people of the proposed park district in Indianapolis was lodged in the county council.

The bill was taken into court purposely to determine whether it and the one affecting Fort Wayne were legal. If it should be declared void by the supreme court, it will be revised and presented to the next legislature.

GARBAGE AUTO TRUCK.

Purchased by the Board of Works Monday afternoon.

The board of works will meet late Monday afternoon for a final decision on the truck problem. The vehicle which is to be a two-ton affair, is to be used for hauling garbage. At the preliminary meeting held Monday morning practically every priced machine on the market was represented from a Packard down. The board intends to buy just one truck at first but if it proves as useful as expected several more will be bought. Funds for the truck are necessarily low and the board is therefore in a quandry of just which of the many medium priced cars is the best for their purposes.

Improving Parks.

City Forester Jenike has been busy supervising the fall work in the city parks. Old Fort park is being planted with shrubs. This park will be one of the most attractive within the city when fully completed. The leaves in all of the parks are being raked. A new system of raking will make this annual job shorter and enable the men to leave the ground in a cleaner condition. The entire work is expected to be completed within two weeks, a reduction of considerable time over the old method.

A plat of the Centlivre park addition had been submitted to the park board. The addition is so planned that it will make a drive of considerable length, connecting it with several other new additions. Considerable space is allotted to a public park in the new addition.

Wants to Be Second City.

Evansville is evidently getting worried. In a recent article in one of its papers it calls upon its citizens to act at once in regard to boundary enlargements if it expects to remain Indiana's second city. It also points out Fort Wayne's rapid growth because of its many real estate additions. As a matter of fact Fort Wayne has for a number of years been the second city in Indiana. Fort Wayne's population overlaps that of Evansville as does the record of building permits. The enlarging and straightening of Fort Wayne's boundary lines is now before

Y. W. C. A. WILL SOON START CAMPAIGN TO RAISE $15,000

Hostess House at Fort Reilly.

Next week will mark the opening of the campaign in this city by the Y. W. C. A. to raise $15,000 for making better quarters and conveniences for girls and women about army cantonments. The nation is at present engaged in raising $4,000,000 for this purpose. Indiana has pledged to raise $100,000 of this amount and $15,000 will be Allen county's quota. The plan is to build the hostess houses, as the quarters will be called, in every cantonment where the commanding officers desire it. The government has been continually calling for better quarters for the girls and women near the training camps. The accompanying picture shows a hostess house in the course of construction at Fort Reilly and Camp Funston. The picture was taken by Mrs. Lyman Rawles, whose husband, a former Fort Wayne doctor, is stationed in the base hospital at Camp Funston. Similar houses are under construction at nearly all of the army camps and it is for these buildings that the Y. W. C. A. is waging this coming campaign.

Does He Look Like a Peaceful Man?

GEN. VON MACKENSEN

A close scrutiny of this photograph of General von Mackensen, just received in this country, may give the clue to German frightfulness, and also explain why the allies do not take much stock in the "peace offensive" he is now leading for the kaiser.

Restaurants Do Big Business Wednesdays
"Anyone would know this was either Saturday or Suburban day," observed a restaurant man last Wednesday, as the people from out of town thronged the place for dinner. "We have had a larger number of people here from out of town each Suburban day," he added, "and now our Wednesdays are as large as Saturday."
As a matter of fact, the Wednesday crowd is not nearly as "visible" as the Saturday crowd for the reason that the town people, especially those who do not work in the afternoon, have the habit of coming down town on Saturday, and many of these are not buyers at all—simply specimens of the Saturday-afternoon habit. But on Wednesday, even though the number of out-of-town people is large, most of them are indoors making their purchases, so that the numbers do not seem as large as they would if the same number came on Saturday. With good weather, this week Wednesday will prove the "banter" Suburban day of the series.

LET'S HORSE STAND FOR TWELVE HOURS

Fred Meyer Loses Animal After Being Cared for by Firemen.

The prisoners' row at police court was more than crowded Monday morning. The usual line of drunks, six in number, were present. Tony Gandy, arrested for the fifth time this year, was given $10 and costs to be served one the public roads. Bert Doss was given $1 and costs. Fred Olsen, a chance to get to Chicago. Walter J. costs, an old timer, was handed $5 and costs, while Fred Rehling was committed until November 19. Tom Tolani forfeited his bond. He was arrested on a drunk charge, Saturday.
Inhumane Treatment.
Fred Meyer, a farmer, was arrested for inhumane treatment of his horse. He drove the animal to town Saturday morning and left it stand in front of the engine house on Washington street without attention until 2 o'clock Sunday morning. Firemen from the engine house attempted to care for the animal by covering it with a blanket and unwhitching it. At midnight the animal was unable to stand and when Dr. Gruber was called a little later he found the animal in such a condition that he was forced to kill it. Owing to the fact that Mr. Meyer did not testify and there was no way of proving that he did not feed the animal during the day, Judge Kerr was forced to give a light sentence of $10 and costs.
Beats Up Wife.
Mike Obienalski faced the court Monday morning on a charge of wife beating. His wife was very reluctant to testify against him, saying that she did not speak much English. When an interpreter was brought, however, she admitted that her husband had given her a "beating," although she insisted that she had landed several good blows herself. A fine of $25 and costs was assessed and the pair left the court room together to resume their work at the Wayne Knitting Mills.

Wanted to Collect Note.
Joseph Humeroek decided that Sunday was a good day for collecting and started out to redeem a loan of $2 to Mabel Lane, 118 Eureka street. A policeman found him wandering about in a doubtful part of town and brought him to the station. Judge Kerr advised him not to collect the note or he might find himself arraigned on a more serious charge.
A Regular Party.
Elmer Phelps, Walter Patterson, Bessie Farnan and Anna Smith all played prominent parts in a Sunday "hoose" party at the Smiths' woman's rooms, 210 East Columbia street. Fritz Bower, who operates a saloon next door, played the role of promoter by furnishing the party with "hoose." The arrests were made on the complaint of Phelps, who came to the station, saying that he had been rolled for $45. The other four principals were arrested and brought to the station. All parties concerned denied having seen anything of Patterson's money, however. Phelps and Patterson were each given $15 and costs, Bessie was handed $25 and costs, while Anna drew $20 and costs. Bower admitted his guilt and received the customary $50 and costs.

Raises Rough House.
John Kelly had just enough "hoose" in him Monday morning to make him want to fight. He raised considerable trouble in a Harrison street restaurant and as a result was assessed $25 and costs.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy always broke up these attacks immediately, and I was never without it in the house. I have taken it myself for coughs and colds with good results."—Advertisement.
TO IDENTIFY SUSPECT.
C. H. Worden was called to Logansport Sunday to identify a man supposed to be connected with the Chicago swindle in which Mr. Worden was a victim. Logansport officials found that the man had already been arrested on the same charge and that he was out on $20,000 bond.

Died of Premature Old Age!

How many times we hear of comparatively young persons passing away when they should have lived to be 70 or 80 years of age. This fatal work is usually attributed to the kidneys, as, when the kidneys degenerate, it causes auto-intoxication. The more injurious the poisons passing thru the kidneys the quicker will those noble organs be degenerated, and the sooner they decay.

It is thus the wisest policy, to prevent premature old age and promote long life, to lighten the work of the kidneys. This can be done by drinking plenty of pure water all day long, and occasionally taking a little Anuric (double strength) before meals. This can be obtained at almost any drug store. You will find Anuric more potent than lithia for it dissolves uric acid almost as water does sugar.

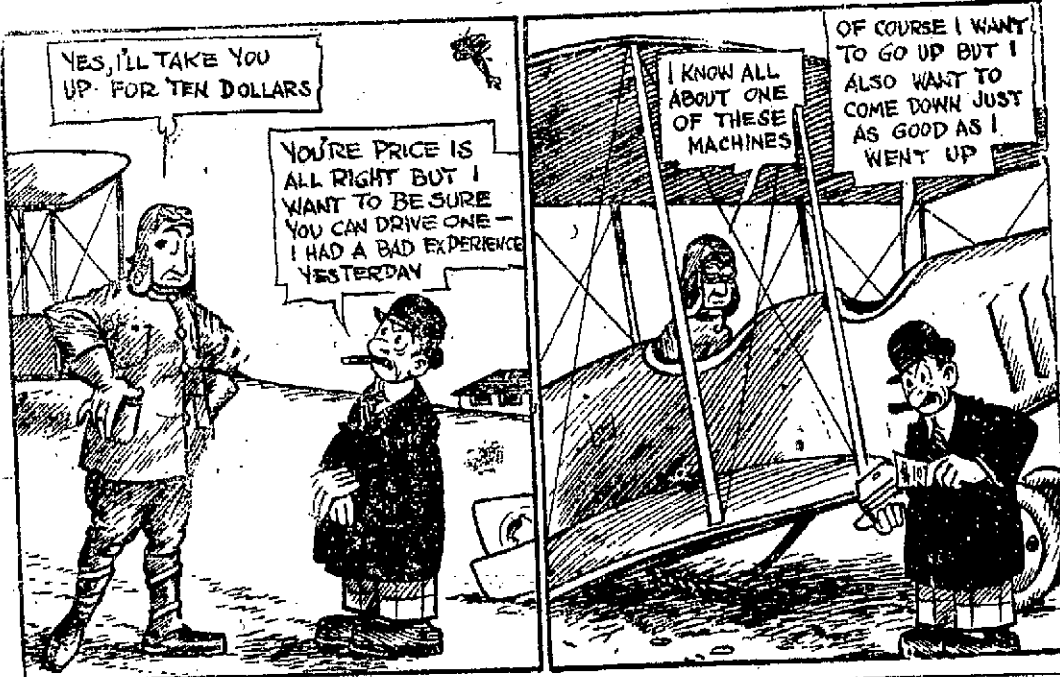

A PROMINENT MAN SPEAKS.

Fort Wayne, Ind.—"At one time through exposure I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs. I coughed continually. Had very little rest day or night, just about the time I would get to sleep I would have a severe fit of coughing. I soon lost weight and grew weak. I thought when it became warmer this would all leave me but it did not. About four months had passed without my getting any better, although I doctored and took medicine. Everyone thought I was going into consumption and I firmly believed so myself. I was in very bad shape when I learned of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had only taken it a few days when I began to get relief and felt assured that I had at last found the right medicine. Three bottles of the 'Discovery' completely cured me. I gained in weight and was once more hale and hearty. —GEORGE F. AICHELE, 68 Portage Ave.

SHAY TRIAL FOR MURDER

The quarrel, it was said, was about the amount of sugar in a bowl. The young woman with Shay ran at the start of the quarrel, going out through the kitchen of the cafe. She said she did not know much about what occurred after the first words were spoken between the men as she was running when the shooting occurred.

VON TIRPITZ VERY FROTHY

Upgrade us to being the slave of Anglo-Americanism," said the admiral. "Our military security lies in Belgium. It is the only way of obtaining compensation for our enormous economic losses."

The admiral added that it was a mistake to believe the submarine would prove sufficient protection against Great Britain, as some effective counter-weapon was bound to be discovered. He declared that Germany must have Antwerp, but Austria must become the principal protecting power of the mouth of the Danube and that Germany was interested in the settlement of the Adriatic question.

"Germany's struggle," he added, "is a terrific battle against the all-devouring, tyrannical Anglo-Americanism."

UP TOMORROW

will attend to the remaining $34,000. Each boy, for example, may designate that his contribution be set apart for food packets for prisoners of war, or he may specify that it go for the Y. M. C. A. service for American soldiers. He may also specify that it be used for association service for the soldiers of our allies.

There is another and more interesting feature of the plan. Each boy must earn the $10 contribution which he makes to the association cause. To this end, the business men of Port Wayne are asked to co-operate with the local Y. M. C. A. executives in providing opportunities for the boys to earn the money. It has been made plain to the Port Wayne boys, as indeed, throughout the country, that their contributions must be the result of service given and money received therefor.

The specified unit is ten dollars. The amount is made large. The amount may be paid in cash, or $5 may be paid within thirty days; $2.50 on January 1, and $2.50 on April 1, 1918. The plan calls for real sacrifice on the part of the boy. If he misses that element, the plan falls short of its purpose. In exceptional cases, approved by the local leader in each instance, two or more boys may jointly subscribe for a ten-dollar unit. It would be most unfair to the boy, however, to allow him to subscribe five dollars and pay his balance rather than ten dollars which might call for real sacrifice. It is possible, of course, for a boy in special cases, to subscribe for more than one ten-dollar unit. The basis of the ten-dollar unit must be preserved, however, and reports made on this basis. The Port Wayne boys realize that only through the knowledge that they have made a sacrifice to serve their country in this way, can they feel that they have had a real and vital part in winning the war.

"A boy should get only what he fairly earns," says one of the leaders, "and not a cent more. There should be no basis of charity in this. To pay a boy two dollars for a day's work which is worth only one dollar is not fair to the boy. On the other hand, there is not lacking those who see in this effort an opportunity to get two dollars' worth of work for one dollar. Save the boy from this."

Each Boy Receives a Certificate.
Each boy who subscribes receives a handsome certificate. To each certificate is attached ten coupons, each equivalent to one dollar, not unlike the liberty bond. However, instead of the boy clipping the coupons and drawing interest, he has to make his payments on the appointed dates. When all the payments are paid and all of the coupons clipped, the boy will have a very handsome certificate which can be framed and kept as a souvenir of the share that he had in the big campaign for the American soldiers or the allied forces. Of the million dollar part of the fund, the state of Indiana has apportioned to it the sum of $51,000.

A Boy's Letter.

Here is a typical letter sent by a boy of Newark, New Jersey, to one of the secretaries in connection with his gift:

"I am sending you ten dollars for the packets of food for the prisoners of war. I earned this money for a bicycle, by using my express wagon doing errands, shoveling snow last winter, cutting grass this summer and painting, and I am willing to give up getting my wheel until later, for I know some poor soldier needs the food more than I need the wheel."

Employing the Boys.

With conditions as they are in Port Wayne, it ought not to be difficult to offer employment to the boys. A group of men in Brooklyn in a very few minutes presented a list of one hundred different jobs that boys might do. The Rotary club, of Lincoln, Neb., showed unusual interest in this part of the campaign, and undertook to provide opportunities for boys to earn the ten dollars required.

Enthusiasm Everywhere.

The Port Wayne men who attended the big conference at Indianapolis report the most intense enthusiasm throughout the state. Among the speakers were Charles W. Fairbanks, Cyrus H. McCormick and John P. Wilder. "If we do not want to do something for the Germans, we had better do something for our own soldiers," said Mr. McCormick. "If Russian troops had had the morale that such an organization as our war-work council gives the men of the United States army there might have been a different story to tell of the German victories in that nation."

Said former Vice President Fairbanks: "This is the supreme test of our republic, and it depends upon what we do now as to whether this republic shall continue. We must awaken to conditions as they now confront us."

Overflow at Bluffton.

Fifteen hundred people crowded into the Grand theater at Bluffton Sunday evening, where Rev. A. J. Folsom, of Port Wayne, delivered an address in the interest of the Y. M. C. A. war-work fund, and so large a number were unable to gain admittance that it was necessary to hold an overflow meeting at the Baptist church. It would have been easy to have raised Wells county's entire quota on this one occasion, but it was determined to adhere to the original plan and that canvass will be made as originally scheduled.

In many Port Wayne churches yesterday pastors urged upon their congregations the fullest support of the Y. M. C. A. war-work fund, and the interest was further intensified by the presence of several Allen county soldiers from Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., who spoke from first-hand information of what the Y. M. C. A. is doing to provide many comforts, wholesome companionship and clean recreation for the soldier boys. One of these speakers, Sergeant Sherrod, spoke along similar lines to the Pennsylvania shops at noon today, and this evening will address a similar meeting at Arcola.

Declare Need is Urgent.

Much significance is attached to a telegram received Sunday by President E. E. Greist from John R. Mott, general secretary of the war-work of the Y. M. C. A. In his message Dr. Mott urged Allen county not to fail in the campaign, as the $45,000 from this county will be needed to meet a new and urgent need which has arisen. It is manifestly impossible, of course, under war regulations, for Dr. Mott to be too specific in detailing this new and urgent need, but it is such as to spur the directors of the war-work of the Y. M. C. A. to new activity. Meetings are to be held during the week at various points in the county to urge forward the relief work.

dustries so that they could hold back the German army and possibly defeat them. In 1915 England was in a very sad way.

"I was in England when the Princess Patricia's Canadian regiment was literally cut in pieces. You know they went in a full regiment and came out with less than 150 men and eight officers and most of them wounded. I was talking to a young Canadian officer from Montreal, who used to be a salesman and therefore a worker in civil life, and he told me that they had run out of ammunition and that they had had to crawl out of their bellies, leaving to the enemy 2,300 men behind, dead and missing. They even had to witness one of their officers crucified before their very eyes."

Vacation Time Interfered.
"And what was happening in England? A large shipment of munitions that I was assisting on was completed and ready to ship and could have been used and should have been used in this very battle—upwards of 300,000 pieces of munition entirely completed—with the exception of a small firing pin. I was told that they could not be delivered in less than three weeks for the reason that the workmen were taking their usual summer's holiday. Think of that! While their own brothers and sons and relatives were undergoing the hardships and tortures of hell and the very nation was in danger."

"And now we are in this war and this convention is going to give the answer so far as we are concerned to the American people and to our allies and last, but not least, to the emperor of Germany. And I want to say to you that so far as we have gone, the answer is on the side of Germany. We are still washing our dirty linen and we have not as yet settled down to a realization of our condition."

German Propaganda.
"The German propaganda is abroad in the land and may be numbered among your delegates. And why not? They were in the house of parliament in England. They were in the duma of Russia. They were in the chamber of deputies in France. They had Greece by the throat, and if such is the case why should they not be in our own legislative bodies, national, state and municipal? And if there, why not here? And if here, how are we going to know him? He won't tell us. We can only judge by his actions and how he approaches this great problem of winning the war."

"It matters not what a man claims as a reason for justifying the retarding or holding back of our war activities. We must stand on results or any man or any body of men who assumes to get in the way of the results of winning this war for democracy, conservation and humanity, is on the side of Germany regardless of what his method of reasoning may be."

No Freedom Under Kaiser's Rule.
"Do you imagine that under German rule you could possibly have the rights you now have under a democracy? Ask any man who has come from Germany. Ask him why he left Germany. He will tell you the answer if he is honest. If we continue to argue among ourselves as to the right and wrong of this principle and that principle and continue to try to satisfy our personal ambitions and our pocket books at the expense of our national efficiency, what will we say when our boys return from France? How are we going to excuse our negligence to them when they return legless, armless and eyesless (if they return at all) knowing that the reason for it was that we failed to back our boys at the front. That the boy's very father refused for some reason or other to make him another shell to shoot or another bayonet to defend himself or refused to lend a sufficiency of food supplies or ships so that he could be fed, or refused to build ships so that the food and clothing, comfort, even medical supplies might be carried to him across the seas. What are you going to tell them? How are we going to square ourselves with him and how are we going to square ourselves with our conscience?"

"Personal disagreement or efforts to take advantage of this war, either by capital or labor is un-American, and if the men are not loyal to the nation they should at least be loyal to their own flesh and blood."

Belgium Would Be Mere Sideshow.
"If Germany wins this war it will be because she has beaten us to our knees. If she beats us to our knees, how do we know that Belgium will not be a sideshow compared to what Germany will do to America. And it will be no time then to say 'I didn't know' because we do know. It will be no time either to say, 'I wish I had done differently' because it will be too late."

"May we hope that a national spirit may be reborn here? May we not hope that a message will come from this convention into the very teeth of the Kaiser saying to him that this is a democracy, that marching shoulder to shoulder in France is the rich man and the poor man, every one striving to the common end—honor and victory for democracy and self preservation—and be sure that we have given to those sons of ours and those brothers of ours who are in France everything that could possibly be required so they may do their work well; so that they may be a credit to American traditions; so that they may never be able to say 'why didn't you back me up. Oh! Father why did you stop when I was suffering and hungry? Why didn't you help me?'"

SUMMARY OF THE DAY'S WAR NEWS

ture positions from the invaders and in the Sugga valley near the Austro-Italian border they captured an enemy advance guard.

The permanence of the Piave line depends mostly on the success or failure of the Austro-German blow in the Asiago region, military observers think. If the invaders can be held in the north Treviso hills along the middle Piave will help the Italians in checking an advance across the river. Further Austro-German advances from the north might make the Piave untenable and Venice and Treviso probably would have to be given up to the enemy with a further retirement either to the Brenta or the Adige.

However, the Italians are fighting hard and the German progress Saturday and Sunday apparently was appreciably lower.

In France there has been little fighting activity of movement. The Germans have failed to counter attack in an attempt to regain the Passchendaele ridge, the capture of which has been completed by the British. In Palestine the British advance continues. More villages and additional prisoners have been lost by the Turks.

formation unauthoritatively ten days ago but was unable to divulge the location of the line, for reasons dictated by military necessity.

Rear Guards Cross River.
Yesterday's report from General Diaz, the new commander, stated that Italian rear guards crossed the Piave river near Sugana, after destroying the bridges.

This river should be noted carefully. A glance at the map will show that after the Tagliamento and the Livenza the Piave is the most important stream capable of interposing a strong tactical position. The upper part of the river is backed by the slopes of the Grappa hills. Further down it has behind it the Asolo hills and the large forest of Montello, both of which are advantageous in giving high advanced wooded points in a flat country. The river is deep, wide, stony and bridgeless. Its mouth is twenty-five miles north of Venice. Where the precise line is cannot be indicated further, but this gives the essential features.

For several days the gravity of the situation for Venice has not been underestimated, and suitable precautionary measures have been taken to protect this great art center. The city preserves comparative calm, while picturesque gondolas, filled with passengers and goods take departing throngs to the stations.

Helping the Needy.
The municipality is affording every assistance to those who are leaving and is allowing two lire daily to the needy until they are located elsewhere. The government is keenly alive to the situation as regards the art treasures of the city and military and naval operations doubtless would be considered secondary to saving priceless monuments like the Campanile, the Palace of the Doges, and St. Mark's from bombardment. All the chief paintings of Titian and Paolo Veronese have been removed to Florence, but scores of great frescoes cannot be taken away.

The splendid service which the Italian cavalry has performed as a rear guard has a melancholy sequel in the death of Major General of Cavalry Rubin Di Cervin, who was commanding an infantry division. He fell at the head of his troops and died while being attended by military surgeons.

The heroic resistance of part of the Thirty-sixth division of infantry also has received the highest praise. It resisted surrender until surrounded by an enormously superior force, with its ammunition exhausted.

hours." This is borne out in part by the lack of timely advices from the Bolshevik headquarters in Petrograd. The radical element in Finland has seized the opportunity to attempt to set up a separate government. Governor General Nekrasoff has been dismissed and his place taken by a sailor and a state of war has been proclaimed. The Finnish diet has voted to give supreme power in the province to a state directorate.

PRESIDENT REACHES BUFFALO

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 12.—President Wilson reached a suburb of Buffalo from Washington at 7:30 o'clock this morning. His special car was detached from the train to be brought here later in time for him to deliver his address this afternoon at the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor.

to where men have views of the long destiny of mankind.

Germany Started War.
"I think that in order to realize just what this moment of council is it is very desirable that we should remind ourselves just how this war came about and just what it is for. You can explain most wars very simply, but the explanation is not so simple. Its roots run deep into all the obscure soils of history and in my view this is the last decisive issue between the old principles of power and the new principles of freedom."

The president here said the war was started by Germany and proceeded to review the position of Germany in the world before the war—the admiration of her intellectual and material achievements.

Had Everything Peace Could Give.
"There was nothing in the world of peace that she did not already have, and have in abundance," he continued.

"We boast of the extraordinary pace of American advancement. We show with pride the statistics of the increase of our industries and of the population of our cities. Well, those statistics did not match the recent statistics of Germany. Her old cities took on youth, grew faster than any American cities grew faster, her old industries opened their eyes and saw a new world and went out for its conquest; and yet the authorities of Germany were not satisfied. You have one word of the answer to the question why she was not satisfied in her methods of competition. There is no important industry in Germany upon which the government has not laid its hands to direct it and, when necessary, control it."

German Industrial System.

Referring to the government support to German industries the president declared the sort of competition forbidden by law in this country was encouraged by government subsidizing, he said. "All the time there was lying behind its thoughts, in its dreams of the future a political control which would enable it in the long run to dominate the labor and the industry of the world. They were not content with success by superior achievement; they wanted success by authority. I suppose very few of you have thought much about the Berlin to Baghdad railway. The Berlin to Baghdad railway was constructed in order to run the threat of force down the flank of the industrial undertakings of half a dozen other countries so that when German competition came it would not be resisted too far—because there was always the possibility of getting German armies into the heart of that country quicker than any other armies could be got there. Look at the map of Europe now. Germany is thrusting upon us again and again the discussion of peace, talks about what? Talks about Belgium, talks about northern France, talks about Alsace-Lorraine. Well, these are deeply interesting subjects to us and to them, but they are not talking about the heart of the matter."

"Take the situation and look at it. Germany has absolute control of Austria-Hungary, practical control of the Balkans, control of Turkey, control of Asia Minor. I saw a map in which the whole thing was printed in appropriate black the other day, and the black stretched all the way from Hamburg to Baghdad—the bulk of German power inscribed into the heart of the world."

"If it can keep that, she has kept all that her dreams contemplated when the war began. If she can keep that, her power can disturb the world as long as she keeps it—always provided, I feel bound to put this proviso in—always provided the present influences that control the German government continue to control it."

Faith in German People.
"I believe that the spirit of freedom can get into the hearts of Germans and find as fine a welcome there as it can find in any other hearts. But the spirit of freedom does not suit the plans of the pan-Germans. Power cannot be used with concentrated force against free peoples if it is used by free people."

Grasps for World Domination.
"Germany is determined that the political power of the world shall belong to her. There have been such ambitions before. They have been in part realized. But never before have those ambitions been based upon so exact and precise and scientific a plan of domination."

"May I not say that it is amazing to me that any group of people should be so ill-informed as to suppose, as some groups in Russia apparently suppose, that any reforms planned in the interest of the people can live in the presence of a Germany powerful enough to undermine or overthrow them by intrigue or force? Any body of free men that compounds with the present German government is compounding for its own destruction. But that is not the whole of the story."

"Any man in America or any where else, who supposes that free industry and enterprise of the world can continue if the pan-German plan is achieved and German power fastened upon the world is as fatuous as the dreamers of Russia."

Pacifists Are Stupid.

"What I am opposed is not the feeling of the pacifists, but their stupidity. My heart is with them, but my mind has a contempt for them. I want peace, but I know how to get it, and they do not."

"You will notice that I sent a friend of mine, Col. House, to Europe, who is as great a lover of peace as any man in the world; but I did not send him on a peace mission. I sent him on a war mission. I sent him to take part in a conference as to how the war was to be won, and he knows, as I know, that that is the way to get peace, if you want it for more than a few minutes."

"All of this is a preface to the conference that I referred to with regard to what we are going to do. If we are true friends of freedom—our own or anybody else's—we will see that the power of this country is raised to its absolute maximum and that absolutely nobody is allowed to stand in the way of it."

Must All Stand Together.

"When I say that nobody is allowed to stand in the way, I don't mean that they shall be prevented by the power of the government but by the power of the American spirit. Our duty is to be to do this great thing and show America to be what we believe her to be—the greatest hopes and energy of the world—then must we stand together night and day until the job is finished."

"While we are fighting for freedom we must see, among other things, that labor is free; and that means a number of interesting things. It means not only that we must do what we have declared our purpose to do, see that the conditions of labor are not rendered more onerous by the war—but also we shall see to it that the instrumentalities by which the conditions of labor are improved are not blocked or checked. That we must do."

A Soldier's Admonition.

"Now to stand together means that nobody must interrupt the process of our energy, if the interruption can possibly be avoided without the abso-

THE MARKETS

CORN PRICES REFLECT WALL STREET'S TONE

Considerable Strength is Developed on Stock Market Firmness.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Corn prices developed considerable strength today reflecting the upward tendency of the New York stock market. Opening quotations, which ranged from 1/4c to 1/2c higher, with December at $1.19 1/2, @1.20 and May at $1.14 1/2 @1.15 1/2, were followed by a moderate reaction the same as throughout the past week. Oats are scarcer than dealers expected of lightness of rural offerings. Lower quotations on hogs had only a temporary weakening effect on provisions. The close on corn was unsettled, 1/4c to 2 1/2c higher, with December at $1.20 1/2 and May at $1.15 1/2.

WALL STREET SHORTS ARE FORCED TO COVER

Prominent Issues Add Good Gains, But Profit Taking Bulls Tone.

New York, Nov. 12.—The short interest was again forced to cover at the opening of today's stock market, prominent issues adding 1 to 2 points to last week's final quotations. United States steel made an extreme gain of 1 1/2 points on its first offering of 3,000 shares and other equipments, motors and shippings were among the conspicuous features. Union Pacific and New York Central also improved substantially.

The covering movement continued during the first hour, accompanied by higher quotations, after which trading diminished visibly. Interest centered around the president's Buffalo address. Profit-taking had its effect in several quarters. Studebaker reacted 3 points, but elsewhere reversals averaged less than a point. Rails and shipping manifested more firmness. Liberty 4's sold at 99.98 to the new low of 99.96 and the 3 1/2's ranged between 99.34 and 99.30.
